

I used to receive numerous calls daily that would disrupt my life. Since the new privacy laws were implemented my homelife has become more enjoyable without the daily interruptions to rude, obnoxious individuals attempting to give "free trials" on everything from flood insurance to magazines about snails. I feel there isn't a need for change in Indiana's law.

Just sign me as,

A Hoosier with a QUIET home